Professional Experience

WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP WRESTLING

- Successfully feuded with Booker T, elevating his singles career.
- Defenestrated on national television by Perry Saturn. It was technically a glass door, but I love the term “defenestration” and I don’t get to use it much so I’m rolling with that.
- Career effectively ended at Superbrawl VIII (:)

WORLD WRESTLING FEDERATION

- Runner-up in 1993 Intercontinental Championship Battle Royal (to Razor Ramon).
- Wrestled Shawn Michaels to a countout draw in front of 80,000 fans in Wembley Stadium at Summerslam 1992.
- Carried Tito Santana like dead weight to tag team prominence, before tiring of him at Wrestlemania V.
- Had two amazing entrance themes where somehow the least amazing of the two is the one done by Robbie Dupree.
- Successfully cultivated “The Model” persona, relocating to Cocoa Beach for a gimmick that was years ahead of its time.
- Launched successful line of cologne, Arrogance, and advertised it in some amazing vignettes.
- Temporarily blinded Jake “The Snake” Roberts, incapacitating him for the better part of 1990.
- Successfully teamed with Tony Garea and briefly with Tom Zenk before Tom Zenk got apparently got weird about pay disparities.

AMERICAN WRESTLING ASSOCIATION

- Beat Jumbo goddamn Tsuruta for AWA World Heavyweight Championship.
- I’m going to make that another entry because seriously how cool is Jumbo as a proverbial notch on the belt? Jumbo Tsuruta was the Japanese pro-wrestler of the 1980s.
- Wrestled several matches with then-NWA World Champion Ric Flair.

OTHER TERRITORIES

- Emerged as top talent in the Pacific Northwest territory for the NWA.
- Successfully teamed with Roddy Piper, winning a total of four tag team championships.
- Feature attraction in multiple territories in Canada (e.g. Stampede Wrestling), Puerto Rico (World Wrestling Council), and the United States (e.g. Georgia Championship Wrestling)
